

“It is not because things are difficult that we do not dare; it is because we do not dare that they are difficult.” -
Lucius Seneca

If you had to recall the one time in your childhood or adolescence when you made your parents the most angry, when was it? Explain.....